

3.1.4 Varietal name

- a) Can only be indicated if:
- the wine is produced from at least 75% of the grapes of the said varietal;
 - this varietal determines the specific character of a wine;
 - the name of the varietal does not lend itself to confusion with an appellation of origin or a geographical indication.
- b) When the names of two varieties are mentioned:
- the wine must come entirely from these two varieties;
 - they must be indicated by decreasing order of importance;
 - the States set the minimum percentage for the quantity of the least important grape, which must not be less than 15%.
- c) Exceptionally in countries where more than two varieties are usually shown in the labelling of wine, the percentage of each must figure on the label.

NB - To ensure these provisions are respected, it is recommended that the States demand a harvest declaration showing the produced quantities of each varietal, along with the acreage planted with these varieties.
